

DECLARATION OF DIVINITY

I, _____, am one of Creator's Chosen Ones whose essence is composed of Creator Himself. My very presence is empirical proof of this Divine fact. In light of such undeniable evidence, I am declared a member in good standing among the Creator's Chosen People, with a Divine Right to acceptance in this very exclusive club whose membership roll contains us all.

No one walking the mortal path is excluded from these rolls. All races, creeds and singular exceptions among us link to the chain equally.

In addition hitherto, I hereby recognize, by virtue of my birth, that I possess full Earth Citizenship and thereby duly inherit all the responsibilities that this privilege entails. As inheritor of this birthright, I have the ability, but not the obligation, to assign my rightful claim to another person, denomination, country, corporation or graven image.

I can use my powers wisely... Or not. It's up to me.
